Some Random Landscape Thoughts

With the warmer temperatures finally arriving and coupled with the break in rain, our teams have been busy doing what this time of the year calls out for. From applying pre-emergent in both the planter areas and the turf areas, so as to assure that there remains complete control of all seasonal weeds. Running through irrigation systems to make sure all issues are resolved, cleaned out, or otherwise improved; so when the hot temperatures hit, we are ready! We have been applying growth regulators to shrubs, to control growth and aid shrubs in flower production. Lastly, we have been able to apply fertilizers with a bit more nitrogen that is more easily adsorbed with the warmer temperatures. We recommend applying a 20-5-10 mixture to your spring temperature turf. This mixture will help wake up your spring and summer turf, while providing just enough phosphorus for sustained root growth and potassium for overall turf health. Watch for next months newsletter as we dive a little more into the breakdown of fertilizers, the numbers and their meanings.

Until then, happy landscaping!

Our 3 Favorite Plants for Early Spring

Pansy: The best flowers to plant in spring for early-season containers and window boxes, relishing the variety in petal color as much as the cheery uplifted blooms.

Tulip: With innate cheerfulness and beauty a tulip lends itself to a variety of garden setting from formal border gardens to naturalistic, casual settings.

Lilac: Fragrant flower clusters feature single purple blooms edged in white. Blooms open in mid-spring on plants that grow 8 to 10 feet tall and 8 to 12 feet wide.

We love what our clients have to say about us !

Right from the first moment I met with Joshua Mitchell, I knew I could count with JDM Landscape. My wife and I had met with several other landscapers, but we were impressed with you're attention to detail and responsiveness to our questions and concerns. You and your team delivered on a great design and surpassed our expectations. Thank you for our new beautiful backyard.

Tips for getting ready for spring

- Trees/Shrubs: If you have trees or shrubs to transplant, now is the perfect time. Plants from containers can be installed year-round, but moving an established plant should happen when the roots are still relatively dormant and soils haven't dried out.
- Lawn: When your grass is beginning active growth, spring is a great time to aerate your lawns soil. This loosens the soil, allowing grass roots to reach deeper for better growth and allows the soil to absorb moisture better for a healthier lawn.
- Fertilizing: Fertilizing your lawn will help give you a head start on a healthy and green lawn throughout the year
- Mulch: Freshen up planter beds and tree rings with a new application of mulch (do not exceed 3" of total depth)

The Home & Garden Show

We did it!

I am very grateful for the team that came together under very stressful circumstances, to play a roll in what ended up being an absolutely beautiful landscape display at the spring home and garden show. Our employees, vendors and suppliers were without equivocation the A-Team! Taking first place in the Central Valley Art of Landscape competition is a huge compliment to the landscape team we know we are!
